1. Major achievement(s) in support of standardization in laboratory medicine

JACRI has a structure to cooperate through JCCLS for all activities related to standardization. Therefore, please refer to the JCCLS activity report on JACRI activities. In addition to the JCCLS report I will report the following, JACRI is cooperating for measurement cooperation on the bidding of the next lot of JCCLS-CRM lot 001d. It will be distributed with new standard products in the summer of 2018.

2. Planned activity(ies) in support of standardization in laboratory medicine

Establish procedures concerning measurement cooperation from JCCLS.

3. Promoting traceability in laboratory medicine

4. Reference laboratory networks /collaborations focusing on developing /implementing reference measurement systems

5. Open questions and suggestions to be addressed by JCTLM

Consider to develop ASO reference material for IVD. Because there is no standard materials worldwide.
